

School Counselor Of the Year

Brooke Neumann Snow Canyon Middle School

For the past 23 years, Snow Canyon Middle School has been more than just a workplace for this dedicated counselor—it has been her home. Having spent her entire counseling career at SCMS, she has cultivated a professional family among her faculty and a deep-seated love for her students. She finds her greatest fulfillment in teaching students new skills and watching them navigate the struggles that lead to genuine success. An avid explorer, she developed a passion for global cultures early on, visiting 18 countries across the Middle East and Europe in a single year, including a study abroad in Jerusalem. Today, she continues that adventurous spirit through a new hobby: scuba diving. At home, she is a devoted wife and mother of five. Her free time is spent as her children's biggest cheerleader, frequenting tennis matches, football games, and track meets, or hiking through National Parks with her family. Inspired by the legacy of her mother—a respected educator described as an "icon"—and a career's worth of incredible colleagues, she remains grateful for the daily impact her students have on her life. Thank you so much for your years of service and congratulations.
